Declining development and impacts of the DCB issues lead to adjustment of annual outlook

Last week, SLEEPZ reduced its sales and earnings guidance. The company now anticipates revenue in the range of EUR 12-14m (previously: EUR 18m). The subsidiaries' operating earnings are expected to be between EUR -1m and EUR -1.5m (previously: slightly negative). At the same time, the company announced it will presumably have generated revenue of EUR 8.8m after 9M in 2017. This is well below the previous year's figure of EUR 10.9m.

In the context of half-year reporting the company had already pointed out that it will be a true challenge to meet the sales target. We had positioned our forecasts below the guidance. Yet, the extent of the reduced outlook has taken us by surprise.

Defective raw material delivery burdens business development: Besides the weaker development in Q3, the change of annual targets has also been related to the recent dichlorobenzene issues (DCB). German chemicals group BASF had produced a contaminated raw material for foam mattresses for weeks because of a technical error. DCB is suspected of causing cancer. It can also cause irritation of skin, respiratory tract and eyes. On October 12, the Trade Association of the Mattress Industry published a press release in which the health hazard has been put into perspective (the material volatilises after the production, hence there is no health hazard according to BASF). However, this uncertainty may lead to a temporary slump in demand on the part of the consumers. Additionally, major producers have started a recall campaign. The uncertainty about the DCB contamination has caused production businesses to suspend production, so that bottlenecks will have to be expected in the important final quarter. We regard this as a major reason for the drastic reduction of the sales target.

Adjustment of estimates: We have lowered our estimates once again, now anticipating revenue of EUR 12.8m in 2017. We have reduced the group's EBIT estimate to EUR -2.3m. In addition to the effects resulting from the DCB contamination, this also reflects the postponed launch of sales of the Grafenfels mattress. The company continues to work on having the mattress produced at a larger scale.

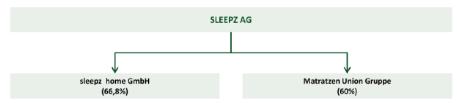

Conclusion: SLEEPZ will have to report a decline in revenue in 2017 and will fail to meet the expected earnings improvement. As well as internal problems this is also due to the temporary burden resulting from the DCB contamination. There is currently a lack of drivers for the shares. We confirm our Hold recommendation with a new PT of EUR 1.80 (previously: EUR 2.00).

Source: Company

In November 2015, SLEEPZ acquired a majority interest in Matratzen Union Group. Like sleepz, the companies operate several online shops in the field of sleeping worlds and an online outlet for (sleeping) furniture and decoration. Source: Company

Ecom Union GmbH operates the website "onletto.de", an online outlet for (sleeping room) furniture and decoration. The company purchases its products via MHK as purchasing association. This is a network of more than 2,000 retail partners in the furniture sector.
